Intruder Charged with Stalking, Breaking into Chris Brown's Home

A female suspected of breaking into singer Chris Brown's Agoura Hills home, living there for several days and vandalizing his property was charged today, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office announced.

Amira Kodcia Ayeb (dob 5/13/93) is scheduled to be arraigned after 1:30 p.m. today at the Los Angeles County Superior Court in Van Nuys, Department 100. She is charged in case LA080942. Prosecutors will ask that bail be set at $220,000.

Deputy District Attorney Wendy Segall with the Stalking Unit is prosecuting the case.

Ayeb is charged with one felony count each of first-degree residential burglary, stalking and vandalism. She allegedly broke into Brown's home on May 2 and vandalized his house and cars. She was arrested Wednesday after Brown returned home.

If convicted, she faces more than seven years in state prison.

The case remains under investigation by the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department.
